Da RoolzBoyz

When you play Blood Bowl, situations may arise which just don't seem to be covered in the rules. Don't panic, this happens to everyone. It really is impossible to write a rulebook that covers every interpretation of the rules and gaming situation so don't fall out with your mates over it! The first step is to re-read the section of the rules concerned. If this doesn't sort the problem out see if you and your opponent can agree a common sense solution at least until the end of the game. If you really can't agree then roll a dice to decide and get on with the game!

If you cannot sort the problem out or need a more permanent solution you can contact the Roolzboyz on 0115 91 40000 or by post. Like yourselves, the RoolzBoyz are enthusiastic gamers. However, they do not write the official rules so they'll be happy to give you advice but their responses are not "official" and are not to be taken as binding for competition games or leagues.

DeathZone

The supplement to Blood Bowl, DeathZone contains over 100 new Special Play cards and new Team Lists for Goblin, Chaos, Undead, Wood Elf, Halfling and Chaos Dwarf teams, including background information and special rules plus 18 Star Player cards, to allow any coach to include some of these talented players within his team's ranks. You'll also find special rules allowing coaches to add Apothecaries and Wizards to their teams, to heal injured players or blast the opposition with devastating spells!

Blood Bowl Leagues

DeathZone also provides advice and rules for setting up Blood Bowl Leagues! Compete against your friends for the ultimate honour of winning the Blood Bowl Trophy!
DeathZone available mid April 1998 - Call for details!

ORCLAND RAIDERS

Orcs have been playing Blood Bowl since the game was invented. In fact you could say the game's mix of low cunning and extreme violence was invented for Orcs! Orc teams are tough and hard-hitting, grinding down the opposition's line to create gaps for their excellent Orc Blitzers to exploit.

The Orcland Raiders Team consists of 5 Lineman, 3 Blitzers, 1 Thrower and 2 Black Orc Blockers.

Humans make great all round Blood Bowl players - not as tough and hard hitting as Orcs but far better at throwing and catching, not as agile as Elven players but physically stronger and greater tacticians.

CHAOS ALL-STARS

Chaos teams are not noted for the subtlety or originality of their game play. A simple drive up the centre of the field, maiming and injuring as many opposing players as possible, is about the limit of their game plan. Their motto is usually "Never mind the ball - get on with the game!". They rarely, if ever, worry about the minor considerations like scoring touchdowns - not whilst there are any players left alive in the opposing team, anyway!

The Chaos All-Stars team consists of 8 Beastmen & 3 Chaos Warriors.

ATHELORN AVENGERS

For Wood Elves the 'bomb' pass is everything, even more so than their High Elf cousins and all their effort goes into being an expert at throwing and receiving. They rely on their natural agility to keep them out of trouble, which is normally enough - it takes a very agile or lucky opponent to lay a hand on a Wood Elf!

1 Thrower, 2 Catchers and 2 Wardancers.*

GALADRIETH GLADIATORS

Skilled in the extreme, High Elves rely on the accuracy of their Phoenix Warriors and the icy calm of their Lion Warriors. The unglamorous Linemen simply hold off the other sides more homicidal players until the pass is thrown - and they're mighty annoyed if this takes too long!

NAGGAROTH NIGHTMARES

Dark Elves are generally quite superb players, combining agility and amazing athletic ability with an evil temperament. Although best suited to the passing game, sheer spite means the Dark Elves enjoy the running game and the opportunity for violence!

GRUDGEBEARERS

Dwarfs seem to be ideal Blood Bowl players, being short, tough, well - armoured and having this stubborn knack of refusing to die! Most successful Dwarf teams work on the principle that if they take out all the other teams potential scorers and wear down the rest then there won't be anybody left to stop them scoring!

ZHARR-NAGGRUND ZIGGURATS

Chaos Dwarfs are the evil tainted descendants of ancient Dwarf migrations, viciously affected by the warping forces of Chaos. They still love playing Blood Bowl though! Chaos Dwarfs are not very numerous and make great use of sneaky Hobgoblin slaves throughout society, including on the field.

GREENFIELD GRASSHUGGERS

The technical deficiencies of Halflings are legendary. Too short to throw or catch, they run at half pace and the whole team could spend an afternoon attempting to block an Ogre without the slightest chance of success but they're still eager players. After all, if you can get half a dozen players in the End Zone and by some miracle manage to get the ball there is a chance that one or two of them won't be jelly by the time you throw the thing.

LOW DOWN RATS

A Goblin team's game plan owes much to the victory of hope over experience. Goblins can make quite good catchers because they are small and agile but the art of throwing is beyond their weedy arms, whilst the chances of their blocking anything larger than a Halfling are somewhat remote. Still, this never seems to bother Goblin players who are happy to use a variety of particularly devious secret weapons which occasionally even allow them to win a game!
